Spirit Keeper Series

In these times there are a number of indigenous peoples who are emissaries of their ancient and living traditions, acting as a bridge, straddling both worlds, uniting cultures. In the Quechua language of the Andes, a person who undertakes this sacred role is called a chakaruna. They help us remember what we already know.

Passport— Spirit Keeper's Series:

"Passports" feature both The Chakaruna Offerings and Spirit Keeper's Circles, a total of 3 talks and 3 circles.

Advance Season Tickets:

$295 for 3 talks and 3 circles.

$215 for full-time students with valid ID, and seniors 65 or over. (27% off).

The Chakaruna's Offering

An introductory talk on the sacred ways of the Spirit Keeper's people.

Saturdays, 7:00 to 8:30 pm: September 5,
October 10, &
November 14, 2009

at the Smoki Museum of American Indian Art and Culture
147 N. Arizona Avenue
Prescott, Arizona.

Spirit Keeper's Circle

A follow-on Sunday afternoon gathering led by the Spirit Keeper with more in-depth opportunities to experience the rituals, cosmology and practices that inform the spiritual consciousness of their native people.

Sundays, 1:00 to 6:00 pm: September 6,
October 11 &
November 15, 2009

at the Center for Spiritual Living
3755 Willow Creek Road
Prescott, Arizona.

Proceeds support Kenosis Spirit Keepers programs. The mission of Kenosis Spirit Keepers, a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization, is to honor and preserve the integrity of indigenous wisdom and sacred cultural practices by providing cross-cultural exchange, educational and community-building opportunities. Alonso Mendez

Respected Archeo-Astronomer

of Tzeltal Maya heritage from Palenque, Mexico

The Chakaruna's Offering:

Maya Hieroglyphs & Philosophy

Alonso will discuss new understanding regarding Maya hieroglyphs and philosophy - the emerging awareness of the ancient Maya people as great influencers in the evolution that is upon us now.

Spirit Keeper's Circle:

Maya Concepts of Sacred Geometry

Explore how it relates to site, geography and alignment to the greater order. In the Maya world, the house is a living entity that generates benevolence and health. We will learn how to organize our space, make offerings and practice methods of observation in our own geography for right relationship to the Cosmos. Born in the highlands of Chiapas, Mexico and raised in San Cristóbal de las Casas. His investigations at Palenque and other important Maya sites resulted in discoveries of new solar and lunar alignments in the major temples and increased understanding of the hieroglyphic texts.

His expertise has brought involvement in a number of documentaries and programs about the living and ancient Maya, most recently "2012: Science or Superstition" and co-scriptwriter for "Maya Skies" for the Chabot Planetarium in San Francisco. Alonso is an artist, an engaging storyteller and teacher of the Maya way of life.

Sat., Sun., Oct. 10 & 11

Anank Nunink Nunkai

Shuar Uwishin

(traditional healer) from the Equadorian Rainforest

The Chakaruna's Offering:

Mythology: The Legend of Nunkui

Anank will discuss how the Goddess Nunkui (Mother Earth) came to the Shuar thousands of years ago and taught them how to survive in the jungle and coexist with nature in a sustainable way. These lessons are as relevant now as they have always been.

Spirit Keeper's Circle:

Peace, Love Understanding & Respect: Tools for a Happy Life.

Living in the Amazon Rainforest your life may be in danger at any given moment and yet the Shuar are always happy and completely relaxed. How do they do it? Anank will share the wisdom of his ancestors and how he continues to learn from them every day. You will learn how to apply this knowledge towards increased happiness and reduced stress. We will conclude this event with a guided meditation.

Born in 1947 of the Shuar of the Sacred Waterfalls, deep in the Ecuadorian Amazon, Anank is an Uwishin (traditional healer) guided by the Great Spirit Aratum and the wisdom of his ancestors. Anank's mission in life is to help people, preserve the Shuar culture, and the beautiful rainforest they call home. One of a kind exotic hand-made Shuar jewelry will also be available for purchase.

Sat., Sun., Nov. 14 & 15

Walking Thunder

Diné (Navajo) Medicine Woman from New Mexico

The Chakaruna's Offering:

What Does It Mean to be a Medicine Person in Today's World?

Walking Thunder addresses this question in her amazing stories and life lessons. A unique and intimate opportunity for practitioners in the local healing community to listen to the insights and stories of an incredible healer who has spent decades working to serve her Diné people as a traditional Medicine Woman. Walking Thunder will share what it means to be a healer and how to use one's gifts. Bring your questions.

Spirit Keeper's Circle:

Teaching/Training for Healers

Walking Thunder has an enormous amount to offer that will leave all in attendance with much to consider & to grow with. Native plants, sacred sand paintings, and other medicinal ways, their purpose & meaning will be demonstrated. This circle is not only about learning techniques, but rather a chance to spend time with a living library of wisdom.
